

Program Lead Consultant: Gary Sage

Gary is a gifted consultant and a highly respected communications coach.

An enthralling speaker who can keep a crowd fascinated for absolute ages, Gary has coached and conducted seminars and workshops on five continents to thousands of people. He is a highly sought after executive coach and has personal clients spanning the globe.

With over 20 years of experience working with and observing hundreds of business operations in all kinds of industries, Gary has learned lessons from the likes of Jack Welch to the homeless panhandler at Waterloo station.! Gary thrives on candour. No scripts, no guidelines, no taboos, no silly aids – real world stuff.

After 15 years of working with only gifted individuals and a seven year period of applying a set of ideas drawn from coaching projects and engagements, Gary combined them with his unique insight into human cognition to real-world situations and people.
