

Who is this for?

It is for rainmakers and the exceptional few who really want to make a difference, those who are fully committed to improving their existing knowledge, skills and performance.

Even if you're a rainmaker -making big things happen, running a company -or a team leader performing your first management job, The Personal Philanthropy programme is only for you if you find life is calling for great deeds at all levels: individual, social and corporate.

You get to participate -because as sure as life exists there are no passive rainmakers or leaders. Rainmakers and leaders participate – this is something that all masters know.
